PETROGRAD, July 3.—The new Russian offensive has resulted in the capture of 6000 more prisoners. The Russians are advancing toward Zolochiv,
Galicia, the war office announces.

Russian troops have occupied the Galician villages of Presovce, Zborov and Korschiduv. The Austro-German forces have retreated westward across the Little Strypa-river.

Twenty-one guns and several mine throwers were captured. Prisoners captured total 30,000.

The number of prisoners taken in the fighting southeast of Brasovany on Sunday is given as fifty-three officers and 2200 men.

—14,000 PRISONERS.

The 6300 prisoners were all taken yesterday, and are in addition to the 10,000 captured in the first twenty-four hours of General Brusiloff's drive.

In addition, today's statement reports

2200 Teutons taken southeast of Brasovany on Sunday. A number of mine throwers were in the booty captured around Zolochiv.

The two cities mentioned, Brasovany and Zolochiv, are in the same district of the Austro-Hungarian Empire. The initial drive, a continuation of the offensive here was taken to mean that the enemy lines have been penetrated and the enemy flanked in several places.

Official despatches declared that the count of prisoners is still incomplete and will undoubtedly go higher than the 19,000 so far accounted for.

KERENSKY MAKES APPEAL.

War Minister Kerensky issued an appeal to the Russian armies to take the offensive. He says that Austria and Germany have replied to Russia's appeal to all democracies in favor of peace by the dishonorable proposal that Russia should conclude a separate peace, which should enable them to crush Russia's western allies.

In Russia's rejection of the proposal the enemy says the war will last, threatened an offensive against Russia and the freedom of the country and the revolution itself were in danger. The appeal concludes:

"Every day's delay strengthens the enemy. That is why we appeal to our armies to take the offensive. Let all the world know that it was not from weakness that we talked of peace. Let it be known that liberty increases our military strength. All Russia will bless your exploits in behalf of liberty, your country's future and an honorable and lasting peace."

BERLIN, July 3.—Russian troops have broken forward across the heights on the western bank of the Strypa in Galicia, and succeeded in extending northward the gap they made in the Teutonic lines the previous day, army headquarters announced today.

At Koniuchy, the German statement says, strong Russian attacks broke down with heavy losses. The Russians did not find strength to repeat their attacks against the Bessarabian heights.

The Russian progress was halted with the arrival of German reserves, the official statement adds.

The artillery bombardment on the western front yesterday reached considerable strength in the Ypres salient, the war department announced.

ROME, July 3.—Austria-Hungary's plans for another drive against the Italians on the Trentino front may be frustrated by the new and powerful Russian offensive.

For some time the Austro-Hungarians have been massing big caliber guns, huge supplies of ammunition and reserves of infantry behind their lines in Trentino, indicating that an offensive was in contemplation.

Germany, said a despatch from the front today, contributed largely to these supplies, sending many train-loads of munitions.

At the southern end of the Isonzo River-front, between Vipacco and the Adriatic sea, the Austro-Hungarians massed at least 1000 guns on a small section of the line. The cannoneers

CITY COUNCIL FILLS VACANT COMMISSIONS

Morse Placed at Head of Public Works and Soderberg Is Given the Street Department

Predicted Removal of Chief of Police and City Clerk Is Not Fulfilled; Changes Delayed

With only one dissenting vote the assignment of commissioners to the different departments of the city government was made by the council today voting upon resolutions presented by Commissioner W. H. Edwards.

Frederick Morse became commissioner of public works, and Andrew Soderberg became commissioner of streets. Dr. F.
F. Jackson remains in his former department, that of public health and safety, and Commissioner W. H. Edwards remains as head of the revenue and finance department.

There was no suggestion of any contemplated changes among the executives of the departments. The predicted removal of Chief of Police Peter Petersen and City Clerk Cummings was not fulfilled by any offer of a resolution, and once again the pronouncements have fallen short with their arguments. It is certain, however, that the question of who gets what is the subject of heated debate between the commissioners.

It is possible that nothing definite will be done for several days if within that length of time.

REPRESENTED BY JACKSON.

Conferees held between the commissioners so far have not been fruitful of concrete results. There has even been heated expressions exchanged.
Last evening Commissioner Jackson during a conference in his office resented remarks made by Commissioners Soderberg and Morse.

Police V. J. Coley, who has been suggested as a successor to Chief Peter Petersen, was nothing more to it, explained Dr. Jackson. I merely caused the commissioners down to remark.

The order of assignments made to day cannot be changed except through passage of an ordinance in the usual procedure. From present indications, it is probable that the commissioners will remain where they have been placed for some time to come. Any changes to erect employees or department heads will be sought out from the positions.

Commissioner Edwards, in introducing the resolutions making the assignments said:

"I am introducing these resolutions for this reason. It seems that the commissioners cannot get together and come to an agreement. The situation is that there are two departments without heads and there are important matters pending for consideration. It is most advisable that the situation be cleared at once in this respect."

MAYOR VOTES "NO."

All of the resolutions were carried unanimously, except that naming Dr.
Jackson as commissioner of public health and safety. Mayor Davie voiced an emphatic "no."

Commissioner Morse was unanimously elected vice-president of the council, a position of secondary honor, upon motion of Commissioner Jackson. Edwards was formerly vice-president.

As yesterday, the council chamber was packed with spectators, including among them many expectant officeholders, who eagerly watched every matter of business as read by Clerk Cummings.

FORCE OF HABIT.

Through force of habit Clerk
Cummings continually called the roll beginning "Anderson, Bacus," then checked himself to include the new commissioners. Force of habit of two years' duration could not be easily overcome in the face of the printed forms.

With the commissioners now established, the next step for consideration will be "who's who" under them.
Many employees of long standing and well versed in the handling of affairs in their respective offices are uneasy, and at the same time those friends of the new commissioners who are looking for comfortable berths in the administration are anxious.

Pressure is being brought to bear upon the new commissioners to "ring up" their hand-out of patronage. For their part they desire to "go slow." It is generally believed, with the result that they are figuratively between the devil and the deep sea.

BOYS' SAD PLIGHT

With their mother in jail and their father in the county infirmary, Paul and Sam Benten, 6 and 9 years old, respectively, are temporarily in the care of the Detention Home. The boys were the subject yesterday of a hearing before Superior Judge W. S.
Wells, who was asked by the determination authorities to make some disposition of the boys. The case was continued "temp" to allow the appearance of the mother, who will be released from the county jail tomorrow after serving a ten days' sentence for disturbing the peace at her home in Pleasanton.

A hundred Japanese have arrived to strengthen the legation guard.

of the government. Formal announce-

ARMIES GATHERED.

TIEN TSIN, China, July 3.—The military chiefs supporting the return of Emperor Hsun Tung to the throne of China are gathering powerfully, forces or soldiers to back up the restored monarchy, according to information from Peking today. One of the leaders in this movement to form a monarchical army is General Chang Hsun. It was General Chang Hsun who served an ultimatum upon President Li Yuan Hung demanding his resignation.

The first intimation that foreigners in Peking received of General Chang Hsun's coup was the appearance in the streets of the capital of strong bodies of troops. The boy emperor was taken into the palace at 3 o'clock in the morning under guard of Chang Hsun's soldiers. According to some reports the emperor was crowned immediately, and according to others there was a ceremony.

President Li Yuan Hung is believed to be a prisoner in the hands of the military leaders.

Peking telegrams and letters are subject to censorship and all government offices are under guard.

JAPANESE ACCUSED.

BERKELEY, July 3.—That the coup d'état of the past few days in China has been backed by Japanese capital if not actually planned in Japan is the opinion expressed today by Professor Alfred Ford, head of the Department of Oriental Languages at the University of California. The Manchu monarchists, he added, took advantage of a moment when Russia was weak and the United States was burdened with war preparations to seize control of the government.

"The Manchu party," he explained, "has been powerfully entrenched despite its overthrow when the republic was formed. Throughout the life of the republic the Manchus have been awaiting their chance. The continued weakness of the republic has strengthened the desire for the old order among the people themselves."

"But an important factor to be reckoned with in considering Chinese affairs is Japan. It is highly probable that the whole uprising was backed by Japanese capital, if not planned by the Japanese people. The majority of Chinese students receive their education in Japan."

"The Japanese are a clever people. They become friendly with the Chinese and use them for their political influence. The Japanese have spent great sums of money from time to time to satisfy their interests in China. Japan has long desired to be supreme in Asia, and I believe she will be."

DRAFT EXEMPTION BOARDS AT WORK

Upon the receipt this morning of official notification from President Wilson of the appointment of members of exemption boards, the men who will act in the county outside the cities of Oakland and Berkeley were sworn in by County Clerk George Gross and immediately began the work of numbering the registration cards preparatory to sending a duplicate list to the adjutant general of the United States army. From now on, according to Gross, the work of selecting the first 500,000 men will rapidly proceed.

The thousands of registration cards were placed in a sack and shaken up. They were then drawn out as in a lottery to be numbered. The duplicates will be forwarded immediately to Washington.

The personnel of the boards is as follows: Board No. 1, to act in the city of Alameda; Judge John Ellsworth, A. V. Clark and Joseph Durney; board No. 2, to act in San Leandro and in the east townships of Fremont, Newark, Union and J. B. Ryan; board No. 3, to act in Piedmont, Emeryville, Ocean View and Alameda; Dr. George Rothganger, Walter S. Bratt and John Gill.

BELT LINE MAY ISSUE SHARES

The Howard Terminal Railway Company, recently organized, and forming a link in Oakland's belt line railroad along the waterfront applied yesterday to the State Railroads Commission for permission to issue shares to perfect the organization. The company is taking over 6,108 feet of track owned by the Howard Company and connecting the Southern Pacific, the Western Pacific and a large acreage near the estuary with the wharf and coal bunkers. On the Howard Company's property are warehouses of the Western Fuel Company and the Standard Oil Company, which will be served by the new line.

It is intended to increase terminal facilities by double tracking and other improvements.

The application asks for the issuance of 2,220 shares at $100 each, sixteen shares to go to C. P. Howard and one share each to F. H. Boardman, R. C. Reid, Duncan McDuffie and R. D. Adamson, directors and incorporators. The remaining 2,000 shares are to be turned over to the Howard Company in exchange for the transfer of the trackage already in existence.

ENGLISH URGED

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Foreigners unacquainted with the English language will be deprived of newspaper reading as a wartime diversion if the recommendation that foreign language newspapers be compelled to print in English all editorial expressions and news bearing on this government's foreign policies is adopted by the government as a war measure.

The American League for National Unity, which is fostering the move, urges Federal legislation to enforce such a ruling and, if necessary, governmental control of all foreign language papers.

The league charges that most foreign language newspapers disseminate news giving "secret aid and comfort to the enemy" and at the same time "only lukewarm support to the administration."

Torch Again Plied by Rioters Scores of Negroes Slain by Mobs

Hundreds of men, women and children stood by and cheered today while bodies of burned and mutilated negroes were being taken from the Mississippi River, creeks and ruins of homes.

Smouldering ruins of six entire city blocks, about one hundred dead and 500 wounded and dying, was the toll of the greatest race riot in the nation's history here last night.

Bloodied men and women, rose to a mighty mob of 10,000 during the night and wreaked vengeance for the assassination of Police Detective Coppege upon the negro population of the city.

The entire mob was at one time threatened with conflagrations, but the damage today was conservatively estimated at $500,000.

The presence of upwards of 1,000 federalized Illinois National Guardsmen failed to check the temporarily restored monarchy, according to information from Peking today. One of the leaders in this movement to form a monarchical army is General Chang Hsun. It was General Chang Hsun who served an ultimatum upon President Li Yuan Hung demanding his resignation.

The first intimation that foreigners in Peking received of General Chang Hsun's coup was the appearance in the streets of the capital of strong bodies of troops. "The Japanese are a clever people. They become friendly with the Chinese and use them for their political influence. The Japanese have spent great sums of money from time to time to satisfy their interests in China. Japan has long desired to be supreme in Asia, and I believe she will be."

Colonel S. O. Tripp, personal representative of Governor Lowden, in command of the eight companies of Illinois National Guard patrolling the city, said, at an early hour today, "The mob seems to have spent itself. Fighting has dwindled to desultory firing in different parts of the city and most of the fires have burned out."

Only two white men, Detective Sergeant Coppege, who was killed by a negro mob at 1 o'clock Monday morning, and William Keyser, a hardware merchant, are known dead, although a score are badly wounded in hospitals.

The rioting was at its height between 6 o'clock and midnight. The bodies of seven negroes were lying in the streets within a block of the intersection of the Times and the business thoroughfares at 7:30 o'clock. Another negro, beaten to insensibility, was hanged to a post half a block from the corner, while a squad of twenty-five militiamen looked on helplessly. The mob at 6 o'clock numbered about 10,000 persons, authorities estimated. The city was virtually under martial law, after the frantic pleas from Mayor Mollman, whose life was several times threatened. A few minutes after 8 o'clock two new companies of militia from Shelbyville and Effingham arrived. The men were sent to the section by motor vans and hurried to the riot district.

ALL HURRIED TO JAIL.

Leaping from the vans, they deployed and started up the street in hasty formation. There was a crisp order, rifle bolts clicked and the men advanced with steel balls in their rifle chambers.

A crowd was dragging an aged negro, who had been beaten nearly insensible, at the end of a rope. It was surrounded by the soldiers and the entire mob of about 250 arrested and hurried to jail. In the number was a newspaper reporter and many bystanders. After being detained several hours, all but seventy-five leaders in the mob were released.

The "Black Wall," a negro tenement belt running through the heart of the city, was a mass of flames by 7 o'clock. Hundreds of negroes crowded in their homes were driven out by the flames. As they ran out, they were shot down like rabbits. Many of the bodies were dragged to Cahokia Creek and thrown into the water.

Hundreds of half grown boys and young girls were in the mob. When three negroes were shot down at the intersection of Collinsville and State streets, a crowd of white women fell on their bodies, kicking and mauling them with stones and clubs. Well dressed girls and women hair flying and clothing covered with blood, led units of the mob. Two girls, not more than 19 years old, boarded a street car and dragged off an old negro woman. They beat her insensibility with their shoes.

Frank S. Dickson, adjutant general of Illinois, reached the city at 12:30 this morning and was taken over the riot district by State's Attorney Schaumleffer.

"It is the most terrible sight I have ever witnessed," said Dickson.

PLACED IN DARKNESS.

The city was placed in darkness when white and negro mobs cut all light wires. Negroes did it, as they would have a chance to escape the rioters, the whites so they could evade militiamen.

Firemen, aided by many units from the Missouri side, carried on an unavailing battle against the flames. More than twelve blocks were burned over. The Broadway Opera House was destroyed, with a loss of $100,000. The Southern freight house was still burning early today and the loss is estimated at $250,000. More than 200 negro homes, shacks, tenements and apartment houses were burned.

At 8:30 o'clock traffic across all bridges leading to the Illinois side was stopped. Militiamen held the crowd back with bayonets and there was a great deal of scattered fighting. A man on the bridge fired a fusillade of shots at a log floating in the river. He thought it was a negro swimming to the Missouri side.

At midnight word reached the rioters that a thousand negroes from Condon, Granite City, Belleville and other points had armed and were approaching the city. For a time there was panic.

WHITES ARE ATTACKED.

Several hundred whites who had barricaded themselves in a schoolhouse with their families were attacked by negroes, but militiamen rescued them.

The conduct of the guardsmen brought nothing but praise, many of them being under fire for the first time. Boys, dressed in overalls and evidently fresh from work, had only

EVIDENCE IN MOONEY CASE STANDS

LEAD WIRE TO TRIBUNE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Honors were about evenly divided in the trial of Mrs. Rena Mooney today when the prosecution gained a concession through the admission by the court of a large portion of their conspiracy evidence, and the defense scored heavily by the introduction of testimony tending to controvert the identification of the woman plot schemed by Mrs. Neille Edeau and her daughter, Sadie, Oakland dressmakers.

Although Superior Judge Emmet Seawell, of Santa Rosa, who is presiding over the trial, did not admit to evidence all of the mass of correspondence engaged in by Thomas Mooney, husband of the accused woman, and himself conceived of and used in connection with the preparation, passage, outrages and all other of the communications relative to the circuits of the alleged conspirators to establish a publication here, this paper, subsequently known as the Blast, had for its object, according to the prosecution, the overthrowing of the government and the bringing about of a state of disorder and anarchy in the country.

Further, the court indicated that the letters themselves might be allowed into the record, but that he would have to pass upon them one by one as they were read.

"A number of letters, a lot of correspondence and copies of the Blast have been submitted to the court in connection with the conspiracy claim of the prosecution," said Judge Seawell. "As far as I am concerned, this case, I want to say that I shall have to pass upon the letters one at a time and they will not be admitted as a whole. Regarding the other correspondence relative to the establishment of a publication which the district attorney claims had for its object the overthrow of the government and the bringing about of a state of disorder, I believe these are matters the relation of which with this case the jury should be allowed to determine."

DOCUMENTS PASSED.

The court declared also that certain documents which had passed between the defendant and outside parties were admissible, while others were not, and that he thought therefore the best plan would be to have them all read into the record.

Assistant District Attorney Louis Ferrari was about to read a letter written by Thomas Mooney to Ford and Suhr, when Attorney Edwin McKenney stated that he had two witnesses present who wanted to leave the State and he was anxious to have them testify out of order.

Then, for the first time, the jury was given the opportunity of listening to evidence in behalf of Mrs. Mooney. William Burges, who lives at Sixteenth and West streets, Oakland, a presser for Foreman & Clark, Twelfth and Washington streets, took the witness stand.

Burges testified that Mrs. Edeau was given some time in the afternoon and the presence of a Mr. Stewart, Mrs. Edeau had said that she had been at the scene of the explosion at Stewart and Market streets. Burges declared that he claimed to have been there at the time of the explosion, to have seen the dead and maimed carried away in ambulances and to have been struck by the suspicious actions of two men carrying a black suitcase with white metal trimmings. Mrs. Edeau, according to Burges, had expressed the opinion that she would be wanted as a witness and had been advised by Stout to go to Chief of Police Petersen and tell her story.

WAS SHOWN BOYS.

On her return, Burges testified, Mrs. Edeau declared that she had been to San Francisco and the police had shown her two boys, but she was unable to identify them and had never seen them before in her life. The man she had seen with the sure came, the witness explained, she had characterized as a middle-aged man.

On cross-examination, Assistant District Attorney Ferrari brought out the fact that in his affidavit offered in the Thomas Mooney trial, Burges had made no mention of Mrs. Edeau's saying she had been at Stewart and Market streets. The witness explained this by saying that he had told that fact to one of the defendant's attorneys, John G. Lawler, but that the latter had neglected to incorporate it in the affidavit.

On direct examination for the State, both Mrs. Edeau and her daughter identified Mrs. Mooney, her husband, and Warren K. Billings as having been seen by them at 721 Market street. They mentioned the two men they had noticed near Stewart and Market with a suitcase while they were walking toward 721 Market, but denied that they had said they had been anywhere near the scene when the actual explosion occurred.

The second witness for the defense, also called to contradict this statement of the Edeaus, was Mrs. Muriel Stewart, of 1021 East Twenty-third street, Oakland, also employed by Foreman & Clark, narrated essentially the same interview with Mrs. Edeau as that given by Burges, declaring that the dressmaker had told her that the men she saw were middle-aged.

On cross-examination, Assistant District Attorney Ferrari, in presenting letters and other literature, came upon a copy of Tolstoi's "War and Peace" and several other lengthy treatises. He wanted to offer them in evidence and a suggestion was made that they be given to the jury for reading during their spare time. There was an objection and the court declared that there was no time to read articles of great length.

TO MEET HOOVER

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—John E. Dran, president of the Savings Union Bank and Trust Company, is on his way to Washington at the call of Herbert C. Hoover. He does not know whether he is to be added to the food administrator's board, or whether Hoover wants him only to give a report concerning conditions in California. He left for the East last night following receipt of a telegram from Hoover.

MOYER LAYS ENEMY MINE PLOT TO I.W.W.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The War Department late today instructed the Southern Department to take any steps necessary in handling the situation in the Arizona copper strike. Troops will take hold if the Arizona officials request them.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The strike of copper miners in Gila county, Arizona, has gotten beyond the control of the local authorities, according to a telegram received by Senator Ashurst from Sheriff Armer of that county today.

More than 5000 men are striking in the Bisbee and 2500 in the Globe district, the message said, and troops are needed.

DENVER, Colo., July 3.—The Industrial Workers of the World were charged, in a statement issued by Charles H. Moyer, president of the International Union of Mill, Mine and Smelter Workers, with participation in a nation-wide conspiracy to shut down the copper mines of the country.

Moyer said strikes would be called by the Metal Mine Workers' Union, a branch of the Industrial Workers of the World, in Utah copper mines. He called attention to the recent success of strikes in other copper mining sections of the West.

The Industrial Workers of the World had no money in its treasury. It seems to have plenty of money now. Where it got this money I cannot say. The public may speculate as to the source of it.

There is no doubt the Industrial Workers of the World are trying to put us in a bad light with the Arizona operators. If there should be any violence in Arizona I lay it at the door of the I. W. W."

STRIKE CALL ISSUED.

GLOBE, Ariz., July 3.—An accession of the electrical workers employed in the Old Dominion mine to the ranks of the strikers called out Sunday and Monday by the Metal Mine Workers' Industrial Union and the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Men, was reported early today by an official of the Globe local of the Electrical Workers' Union. The strike call was issued at 2 o'clock this morning, the union office said.

All of the large mines in the Globe-Miami district, where 7000 miners normally are employed, have suspended operations. The properties are so closely picketed that even county officers have been unable to pass the line. The automobiles containing Sheriff Tom Armer, Superior Judge Shute and a number of deputies were held by several hundred miners and after an argument the sheriff ordered the automobiles turned about and drove away.

The sheriff has deputized 100 citizens, including the pastor of the Episcopal Church, who patroled a beat last night armed with a gun and a club.

Members of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Men were expected to return to work at the smaller mines today, an agreement with the small independent producers having been reached by that union, but it was reported that the Metal Mine Workers' Union, the Industrial Workers of the World organization, was prepared to station 300 pickets about the mines to prevent the members of the other union from returning to work.

CARS SEARCHED.

The Industrial Workers last night boarded an incoming passenger train at Phoenix in search of strike breakers, but found none.

Outside of the Globe-Miami district no disorder has been reported.

REPORTS WILL BEAR OUT RATE RAISE DENIAL

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Preliminary reports to the Interstate Commerce Commission on railroad earnings in May have proved that the decision of the commission in refusing the 15 per cent increase will be borne out by full reports.

Returns from 72 of the 136 principal steam roads show a net revenue for the month of $45,134,746, compared with $45,931,930 for May, 1916.

The big gain was by the roads of the western group, the figures being $23,515,510, against $20,497,477 in May, 1916. Eastern roads earned $16,096,079, against $17,607,919 in May, 1916, while the Southern roads earned $5,523,127, against $8,876,064 in May, 1916.

PARIS, July 3.—The situation in Spain appears to be in the throes of revolution. In well informed quarters here it is believed that the fall of the Spanish monarchy and the rise of a republic in its stead is only a matter of days, perhaps hours.

This view is justified by the latest developments in Spanish politics.

The leading parties in the nation have formed a republican "bloc." At a conference recently held at the Chamber of Deputies the Republicans, the Radicals and the Socialists decided to issue a revolutionary and anti-monarchical manifesto, after having constituted themselves into a "bloc."

In addition to these parties the monarchist reformist party of Senor Alvarez, one of the most powerful

OTTAWA, July 3.—At the Golden Jubilee celebration here of Canada's confederation the following message was received today by the Duke of Devonshire, governor-general, from President Wilson:

"At this time when the ties between the Canadian people and my countrymen are made even stronger by association in the common cause of human freedom, I offer cordial congratulations on this half century anniversary of the foundation of the Dominion of Canada."

BICYCLIST KILLED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—An unidentified man, about 25 years old, was killed almost instantly today when he rode a bicycle directly in front of a jitney driven by Webur Dayton, 1880 Clay street, at Golden Gate avenue and Hyde street. The man's skull was fractured. Dayton has hurled against the windshield of his machine and badly cut. He rushed the man to the Central Emergency Hospital, after the accident but the victim was dead on arrival. Dayton is being held on a charge of manslaughter.

STRIKE CALL ISSUED.

BERLIN (via London), July 3.—"Field Marshals von Hindenburg and General von Ludendorff arrived at Austrian headquarters yesterday to discuss present and future operations of the (Teutonic) allied armies," was an official statement given out today.

Both generals were received in audience by the Emperor and had discussions with the Austrian foreign minister and the German ambassador at Vienna.

Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Men, have been conducted thus far without any disturbance. Operators in the Bisbee district, where 5000 men normally are employed, report improvement in the situation, but the names and smelters in the Clifton-Morenci district remain closed as a result of the strike.

The strike was given out by an officer of the Miami local of the Metal Mine Workers' Union that the metal mine workers at Jerome, who were on strike a month ago, would be called out again, but no verification of this statement has been received.

The terms of the counter proposal have not been officially announced.

NORTH TAKIMA, July 3.—The State Council of Defense, meeting here, unanimously adopted a special committee report, declaring that labor conditions in the Takima Valley, due to W. W. activities, constitute a menace to food production, and asking Governor Luther to call upon the Federal Government for protection in the Cle Elum, Ellensburg and Yakima districts. Governor Luther attended the meeting. He expressed approval of the report, and sought wired Secretary of War Baker the substance of the committee's recommendation.

PLANS FOR COUNTY HOSPITAL PROCEED

FOLLOWING the adoption by the board of supervisors of a resolution providing for the purchase of the old California College site, Fourteenth avenue at Valencia Place, for the new county hospital, for $35,000, the price fixed by a jury in recent condemnation suit, Superior Judge William S. Wells will this week make the final order of condemnation. It was announced by Deputy District Attorney T. P. Wittschien.

Just how the recent act limiting the tax levy of counties to an increase of not more than 5 per cent of the rate of the preceding year which was passed by the last state legislature will affect the building of the new hospital was explained by Wittschien.

The act affects bond issues for any purpose," said Wittschien, "but provides for a state board of authorization which will pass on all tax rates. If the $2,000,000 needed for the building of the new county hospital, infirmary and proposed bascule bridge over the Oakland harbor at Webster street is authorized by the people at the special bond issue election August 14, and that amount, together with other money necessary, is appropriated, the tax levy, more than 5 per cent over last year, the board of supervisors will be forced to withhold a sufficiently large block of the bonds for the next year. This, however, will not necessarily delay the building of the hospital, infirmary and bridge. If all the money were available at once it would not be used during the first year."

"The act distinctly states that if the tax levy is 5 per cent more than the previous year it shall be disapproved and automatically approved if under the amount stipulated, but provides for special requests in the case of emergencies. Whether the board would consider Alameda county's need for a new county hospital sufficient to grant a special request is a matter for it to decide. If the bonds carry and we can pay the interest on them from present funds it will not be necessary to ask for special permission."

"SLACKER" IS HIT

Patriotism with a capital P, all the way from the signal corps string in front of the theater in the city of Glendale, to the lobby through the play of three acts, a scene and a revue to the final "Star Spangled Banner," was the offering at the Bishop Playhouse last night before the Americanized version of "The Slackers" was given its first presentation in the West.

The story starts off and ends, in the sun parlor of the Wave Crest Hotel, with scenes on the Atlantic Coast. The story, directed by the author, is a comedy of the seaside resort; the action begins with young men being buttonholed with white feathers by strenuous young girls as a reminder of their having failed to call on the services of Uncle Sam. Some of this has full of intrigue and espionage and wireless apparatus and carrier pigeons and secret service.

William J. "Fatty" L'Heureux, amateur heavyweight boxer of the world, whose voice has been heard by many Oaklanders in many good causes, will sing on the streets of the city from the recruiting truck Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening. A squad of men who have joined the new battery will sing the choruses of L'Heureux's songs.

FORM NEW FIRM

HAVING purchased the Retail Credit Association, controlled by William Nelle, and the William Robbins Mercantile Agency, the Co-operative Credit Association of Alameda county formally started its business activities today in the Dahlzel Building, G. A. Cummings, formerly advertising manager of Breuners', is the manager of the association.

A wide scope of various local firms are represented in the association. A. C. Buttermann, of the California Optical company, is president. The vice-president is E. H. Furtach of H. C. Capwell company; M. E. Hennings of Kahn Brothers, is treasurer, and J. E. Alexander of F. B. Hight School of Berkeley, is secretary.

The directors of the association are G. W. Whitney of Taft & Penney, T. T. Golding, of Roos Brothers, J. E. Mauerman, of the Curtin Store; Harry G. Williams, coal dealer; J. N. Borroughs of the Oakland-California Towl Company, and R. C. Elterman, E. H. Furtach, Edgar H. Barber, J. E. Alexander and M. E. Hennings.

FOR INSTALLATION

RICHMOND, July 3.—One of the coming social affairs of importance is the joint installation of officers of Eclipse Lodge, Odd Fellows and Richmond Rebekahs, which will take place at W. O. Williams' home. The installation of the ritual work of the evening will be conducted by officers from the lodges well acquainted with its details.

The preparations for the affair are in charge of committee from the lodges, including Mrs. F. J. Thill, Mrs. A. Beyer, Mrs. L. R. Hutchins, Mrs. S. E. Ramsey, Mrs. C. Chapman, Frank Rhoads, L. R. Hutchins, S. E. Ramsey and T. Trowbridge.

Tribune to Print Vance Story 'Lone Wolf,' Author's Masterpiece

"The Lone Wolf," one of the cleverest mystery stories of the decade, and unique among tales dealing with the achievements of clever criminals, is to be offered to The TRIBUNE readers, beginning tomorrow.

This serial, from the pen of Louis Joseph Vance, author of "The Brass Bowl," "The Black Bag" and other "best sellers" in mystery tales, is conceded by critics to be the best of his remarkable feats in narrative skill. The plot is not only strikingly original, but the story has a gripping interest that holds the reader.

"The Lone Wolf" will be printed in daily and Sunday installments in The TRIBUNE, commencing tomorrow.

When Miss Esther Cooley announced her betrothal to Eric Craig this spring she planned a fall wedding, with September as the probable month. But this year nothing is certain, as the original and it is to-night that Miss Cooley becomes a bride. Although it cannot be said to be a real "war wedding" the unsettled future has been a great factor in moving the marriage day forward two months.

Miss Cooley has planned a very simple ceremony, which will take place at the family home in Piedmont and for which only the members of the immediate family corrections are invited. Miss Laura Lamoureux will attend her as maid of honor, with Miss Anna McClure and Miss Harriet McClure the bridesmaids. Little Miss Elizabeth Patti-ana will serve as flower girl. Craig will be assisted by Charles Hale as best man.

The one regret which Miss Cooley's friends find in her marriage is that it will take her away from the boy cities to make her new home. The young couple will establish themselves in the vicinity of Redding.

Both Craig and his bride-elect are graduates of the University of California. Miss Cooley is a member of the Alpha Phi sorority. Since her graduation she has given her time to the study of art.

Craig is a Sigma Nu man. He is a mining engineer. The Craig family is prominently known on both sides of the bay. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Craig and a brother of Miss Jessie Craig. They are numbered with the earliest residents in the Piedmont hill district. Formerly Hugh Craig was mayor of the city.

To the older residents of Alameda county the announcement of the betrothal of Elmer Downing, son of Mrs. O. M. Downing, to Miss Dorothy Starr of Grass Valley, is of more than ordinary interest. Downing is the grandson of the late Socrates Huff, who, with his brother, Cicero Huff, was one of the earliest settlers on this side of the bay. The old Huff place in San Leandro was a landmark. Huff was a widely known banker. Downing's aunts are Miss Jennie Huff, Miss Mamie Huff and Miss Callie Huff, who are prominent in the local set. He is a cousin of Mrs. Bush Fennell. Miss Starr is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Starr of Grass Valley, but she is well known by the younger set about the bay, where she has been a frequent visitor. Among her family connections are Miss Ida Bourne, Mrs. James Ells Tucker and Mrs. William Alston Hayne.

Downing is a mining engineer whose work takes him through the state. There have been no plans as yet made for the wedding.

At the announcement of the marriage of Miss Marcella Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bidwell Reed of Chico, and Graham Duncan Cameron is interesting many friends about the bay. The ceremony took place on Saturday in Plymouth Congregational Church, with Rev. Albert W. Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron are en route to Vancouver, B. C., where the honeymoon will be spent.

The bride finished in Miss Ransom's school in Piedmont before entering the University of California, where she was a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma society. Cameron is prominent in Chico. His family is engaged in business in Oakland. He is the son of Mrs. Duncan Cameron. A pretty new home in Piedmont awaits the return from the wedding journey.

Miss Hilda Van Sicklen is spending the summer at Tahoe, where she is proving adept with the roux and holds a record which few of the summer colonists can rival. The Tahoe Auxiliary of the Red Cross, has a good eye to commercial interests, has recruited the fish in the streams and the Tahoe trout auctions not only lend sport to the visitors, but provide a goodly source of revenue as well. Everybody is pleased, the fisherman and woman with luck and he or she who has no luck, the Red Cross Society, those who contribute, and in every instance they who feast. In ten days over $1000 was raised by the organization, of which sum the fishes were responsible for $150. A tea dance was also brought in a comfortable treasury last week. Mrs. S. F. Morse is chairman of the Tahoe branch of the Red Cross, with Miss Elizabeth Bliss secretary and Mrs. C. W. Nelson treasurer.

An interesting visitor in Piedmont is Mrs. John Prince, who has come to the Pacific coast from her home in Boston to be the house guest of Miss Marian Ransom through the summer. Mrs. Prince has established the custom of spending a few weeks of each year in the bay cities, and her many visits has made a wide circle of friends who are eager to meet her.

To Have Perfect Skin Throughout the Summer

These days the face needs special care and attention. Flying dust and dirt, the beating sun, are severe on any skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of pure mercurial ointment. This ointment and powder in a cleanly container, the complexion beautifully clean and spotless. Pale-colored freckles and rounched freckles are actually absorbed by it. Once cured, it is permanent to completely remove a soiled complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain over night, and washed off in the morning.

As the skin tends to expand in warm weather, causing wrinkles to form, a good astrigent lotion should be used. Dissolve 1 oz. powdered salicite in 1 pt. water. Bathe the face in this during the heat of the day or before going out for theater or social affair. It is a remarkable skin tightener and skin eraser.—Advertisement.

It was Mrs. Prince who was the founder of the successful movement, establishing courses for salesmen-stores in Boston. The methods employed proved of such tremendous value that many of the larger cities in their department stores have followed the Boston leadership.

Equipped with a fluent knowledge of the several languages of Europe, with a rigid course in horse-training, Miss Jacqueline Childs is awaiting the word which will send her to New York and immediately to the summer in California, but the three sons of the household have joined the colors and the orders sending them abroad which are expected within a short while hastened their journey to the Atlantic coast.

He took his leave a few minutes later. For the first time they were alone.

Frances turned toward her husband.

"I can't believe it," she faltered. "I shall never get used to it all."

He laughed reassuringly. Then he drew her slowly toward him. She seemed to have become curiously passive.

"Dearest," he said, "it's quite true. You are right—just as much as you want to be. You can send your sisters abroad whenever you want to. You can give me a home. Ruth can go to Dresden for her singing lessons, and Elsie can be sent wherever you like on the Riviera. We might take her with us."

She was crying quietly, but underneath it all Frances could see tremulous happiness in her face.

"It's too wonderful," she whispered, clinging passionately to him.

"The most wonderful thing of all," he whispered, "is our two selves—that you are my wife, Frances, that I love you as I never believed I could love any one."

Her arms tightened around his neck.

For a moment she forgot everything else.

"Then there came a discreet knock at the door. The maid entered.

"Everything is ready for madame," she announced.

Twenty-two exceedingly well groomed young men were awaiting the arrival of Frances and her wife that evening in the Venetian room at the Milan Restaurant.

Horneron, who was in charge of the proceedings, was a little nervous.

"You don't suppose there's any chance of his not turning up?" Freddy Lancaster said.

"Not the slightest," Horneron declared. "He'll be here all right. But Freddy—I don't know whether they'll give all in understand—I'm not sure that he has even a suit of men's clothes to his name. He was looking like nothing on earth when I saw him last."

The young man whom he was addressing smoothed out his tie complacently.

"Poor old Ernie!" he sighed. "Hooked up to a girl, too! I say, you fellows, when do you think we ought to make the presentation?"

"As soon as possible, of course! Don't keep him in anxiety too long. I should think he'd enjoy his dinner better if he knew there was a thousand of the best waiting for him."

The door of the room was suddenly opened, and a servant announced Mr. and Mrs. Parks.

Mrs. William Carter Van Fleet and Mrs. Julia Van Fleet were luncheon hostesses yesterday at their country place at Inverness, entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Paul Geddes Pennoyer (Frances Morgan). Miss Hilda Van Sicklen is spending the summer at Tahoe, where she is proving adept with the roux and holds a record which few of the summer colonists can rival. The Tahoe Auxiliary of the Red Cross, has a good eye to commercial interests, has recruited the fish in the streams and the Tahoe trout auctions not only lend sport to the visitors, but provide a goodly source of revenue as well.

Everybody is pleased, the fisherman and woman with luck and he or she who has no luck, the Red Cross Society, those who contribute, and in every instance they who feast.

In ten days over $1000 was raised by the organization, of which sum the fishes were responsible for $150.

A tea dance was also brought in a comfortable treasury last week. Mrs. S. F. Morse is chairman of the Tahoe branch of the Red Cross, with Miss Elizabeth Bliss secretary and Mrs. C. W. Nelson treasurer.

At the announcement of the marriage of Miss Marcella Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bidwell Reed of Chico, and Graham Duncan Cameron is interesting many friends about the bay. The ceremony took place on Saturday in Plymouth Congregational Church, with Rev. Albert W. Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron are en route to Vancouver, B. C., where the honeymoon will be spent.

The bride finished in Miss Ransom's school in Piedmont before entering the University of California, where she was a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma society. Cameron is prominent in Chico. His family is engaged in business in Oakland. He is the son of Mrs. Duncan Cameron. A pretty new home in Piedmont awaits the return from the wedding journey.

PROUGH'S CONTROL RECORD BEST IN LEAGUE

Oakland Second in Total Runs Even Though Down Listin Bases By Hits; Erickson Strikeout King

By CARL E. BRAZIER

Erickson and Oldham of the Seals have turned the race for strikeout honors of 1917 into a two-man affair. A month ago Oldham was leading by the slimmest kind of a margin; this month finds Erickson in front with 112 strikeout victims and Oldham dropping back to a poor second with 101 victims. Jack Ryan was a respectable third last month, but the veteran Angel pitcher seems to be out of the running for first honors now. He has dropped back until 86 strikeouts is the best he can claim for third honors.

Quinn of Vernon is the only other pitcher who is well out in front of the field, his 67 strikeouts giving him fourth place. Johnson of Vernon with 56 is next; Mitchell of Vernon and Brenton of Portland, each with 51, are the only other pitchers who had fanned over fifty batters up to the first of July.

PROUGH THIRTEENTH ON LIST

Eighth on the list comes "Spider" Baum of the Seals with 49. Leverenz of Salt Lake has fanned 48; Hoff and Dubuc of the Bees have each fanned 46; Penner of Portland has fanned 46. Oakland pitchers do not figure up among the leaders in strikeouts. Clinton Prough is the best Oak bet in strikeouts and he is thirteenth on the list with 41 victims. Right behind him come Krause and Goodbread, each with 38.

Oakland pitchers may not figure in strikeouts, but Prough's control record is one that the other pitchers in the league cannot touch. At the end of the thirteenth week of the Coast League season Prough is among the half dozen hardest-worked pitchers in the league, and yet he has walked less than an average of two batters a week and an average of less than one and a half walks per nine innings. In 176 innings he has walked only twenty-four men; other pitchers among the hardest-worked slabs have issued walks as follows: Oldham 95, Erickson 61, Johnson 49, Baum 45, Quinn 41.

OLDHAM IS WILDEST

Oldham of the Seals is the wildest of the pitchers, having walked 95 batters. Next comes Johnson of Vernon with 84; Dubuc, Salt Lake, 83; Ryan, Los Angeles, 66; Erickson, San Francisco, 61; Brenton, Portland, 61; Hoff, Salt Lake, 61.

Indian Smith of the Seals, one of the best pitchers, has walked 52 batters and fanned 104.

Following are complete strikeout and base on ball records of pitchers up to and including last Saturday's games:

TUESDAY, JULY 3, 1917.

A NEW HOSPITAL SYSTEM.
The State Board of Charities and Corrections yesterday formally proposed to the county supervisors the creation and appointment of a commission to control and administer the public hospital institutions of Alameda County. The State board has been investigating the county hospital, county infirmary and the tuberculosis sanitarium during the past three weeks. Its recommendation for taking these institutions, together with the emergency hospitals, out of politics and placing them under the administrative control of an efficient board certain to be interested, first of all, in giving the people service, is the first result of the investigation made public. Unquestionably it far exceeds in importance any other that will be made known.

Inasmuch as the State board undertook the investigation of the county hospital institutions upon the request of the supervisors it is to be assumed that the latter immediately will indicate their approval of the plan for centralized non-political control of the institutions by taking the proper steps to put it into effect.

The only objection to the plan which the county officials can advance is that it will mean a loss of some political patronage. On the other hand it will be the longest step toward efficiency in the management of the hospital, infirmary, tuberculosis sanitarium and emergency hospital ever taken in any branch of the county's business. It will mean placing these institutions under civil service. It will mean that the knowledge and experience of the University of California, which already has indicated its readiness to cooperate with the proposed plan, will be at the disposal of the county hospital administration. It will mean control of the hospital work by a board whose members will be concerned solely with seeing that the purposes of the public institutions are accomplished in the most efficient and effective manner.

General approval will also be given to the personnel of the proposed commission which the State board has suggested. It recommended that Messrs. Harrison S. Robinson, Frank A. Leach, Jr., and Sam J. Donahue, Prof. R. T. Legge of the State University and President Aurelia H. Reinhardt of Mills College be appointed. These five citizens of Alameda County are a representative group and the reorganization of the hospital system and its future administration may be entrusted to their care with the assurance that the public will heartily approve.

In recommending this plan for the hospital institutions the State Board of Charities and Corrections has justified the expressed confidence of THE TRIBUNE that it would conduct its investigation in a constructive spirit and strive to do everything possible to make better conditions for the future. The supervisors should show their appreciation by promptly putting the system into effect. The public, thoroughly tired of the old bungling, scandalous way, expect this and it will be satisfied with nothing less.

PROTEST THE RATE DECISION.

It appears that the Interstate Commerce Commission, by its decision of last week in the railroad rate increase hearings, proposes to permit railroads controlling a part rail and part water route to raise their through rates until they are equivalent to what would be charged for an all rail route for the entire haul. The most notable specific instance of the significance of applying this rule may be drawn from the through freight route from the Pacific Coast by way of the Southern Pacific's Sunset Route to New Orleans or Galveston and thence by water, in the railroad corporation's ships, to farther north ports.

Under present schedules California shippers enjoy a cheaper rate by this route because of the lower cost of water transportation. The Interstate Commerce Commission proposes to take away this natural advantage of cheap water transportation, not only from California shippers, but from all shippers along the Sunset route who use part rail and part water facilities to get their goods to and from New York City and other North Atlantic ports.

In granting authority for this modification of the rate schedule the Interstate Commerce Commission has ignored two fundamental considerations in the fixing of rates. The first is that water routes are the natural possession of the public and their use should be encouraged because of their agency in keeping down living costs. The government not only should not rob the people of the advantage of cheaper water transportation by raising the rates on water borne freight until it is non-competitive with land routes which are controlled by private corporations, but it should exercise its full powers in keeping water routes open at the lowest possible cost. In the second place, the commission has ignored the fact that freight rates should be based upon freight hauling costs. If it costs a railroad which also controls a steamship line less to transport freight by a rail and water route than by an all rail route, then the charge should be less. Yet the federal commission says that the part water rate may be arbitrarily raised until it no longer competes with the more expensive all land route.

In this decision may be observed again the long apparent tendency of the Interstate Commerce Commission to strangle water competition in the freight transportation business. It is a hurtful and unhealthy tendency and should not be permitted to assert itself without public protest. The shippers of California should ask for a hearing before the commission and try to prevent the deprivation of their advantage of shippers who are so situated geographically as to be able to use water transportation.

KEEP THE FAITH.

Tomorrow will remind us that after 141 years we are still actively interested in the cause of liberty and national independence. Among the statesmen of the period of the Revolution were many leaders who predicted that the ideals of popular democratic government and equal human rights therein upraised in a world which despotic princes considered it their divine right to govern, would be assailed from many quarters. It was not only necessary that the signers of the Declaration of Independence, and the heroic men and women who made it a reality, have the courage to start and win their own battles, but it was essential that their ideals should draw posterity to their defense. They relied upon their children and their children's children to keep the faith of free America.

We have kept that faith so far; shall we continue to guard the richest heritage of civilization—the rights and privileges of a free people—with all our physical, moral and spiritual might?

This is the sobering question which we are now engaged in answering on this anniversary of free America's birth. It will cause us to observe that absence of the usual amount of fireworks tomorrow without any sense of personal loss. Tomorrow is another anniversary of reconsecration in this eventful year of 1917. We go to its observation with the faith and the high hopes of 1776. We think of the men who signed the original covenant of liberty and of the men who now are and those who soon will be on the battle front to keep that covenant sacred and secure.

The purpose of the defenders is the same as was that of the founders of the nation. But those of the present generation may look upon the present with greater assurance than was the fortune of their forefathers. This is to be the decisive fight for democracy, for the maintenance of judicial order and the observance of equal rights among nations. Autocracy and all the cruel conspiracies instrumental in holding up the brazen, insolent buncome of the "Divine right of Kings" are on the run. After this war is over imperial and royal megalomania may be tolerated in an asylum for the insane, but not elsewhere.

So, on this Fourth of July, we may be inspired by the thought that the present efforts of America are to make the rights of humanity and democratic government permanent institutions of civilization. The power and the cult that aims eternally at their destruction will itself be destroyed.

The German persistence at Verdun is one of the features of the war. For nearly seventeen months the attempt has been made to carry the defenses there, involving the loss of thousands of lives. It would not be vital to the allies should the Germans succeed; but it would greatly encourage the German people. It has been argued that a victory for the forces under the crown prince would strengthen the dynasty, which will ultimately be weakened by long promised victories, if it has not been already. Also that a signal victory here would place them in position to command a peace that would approximate the status quo ante. But if there ever was any such possibility it does not exist now. All the nations are fully alive to the necessity of the completest victory for the allies. They see clearly that the peace that eventuates must be one dictated by them, in which kaisersdom shall have no say whatever. The Hohenzollern dynasty will not be saved nor the war ameliorated by any result at Verdun.

THE BRITISH WAR CABINET.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

Since December 11, 1916, England and thereby the British Empire, has been governed absolutely by a war cabinet of five men: Lloyd George, Bonar Law, Lord Curzon, Mr. Henderson and Lord Milner. The last two hold only advisory office. Lord Curzon is understood to have principal direction of foreign relations. Bonar Law infrequently sits in the cabinet since his time is very fully taken with leadership of the House of Commons. The war rule of the British Empire is, therefore, mainly one man—Lloyd George. The wisdom of this extreme and autocratic rule appears not to be challenged, all Britain being bony crushing the foe. In fact from a war situation very confused and admittedly dark, the war cabinet, if not a war dictator, appears to have been regarded by some of the most eminent public men of England the only discernible way out.

This colossal constitutional experiment moves the very foundation of the English political system. The responsible ministries of Gladstone, Disraeli and the other House of Commons leaders of the glorious reign of Queen Victoria answered readily and in frequent elections to the will of the English people. If the war cabinet is answerable, it is evidently not to the ministries, though the twenty-eight of them include statesmen of the highest offices and the most notable and tried abilities. If the war cabinet is answerable to the House of Commons, the mode of testing out has not been suggested. The House itself, we may well remember, was elected so long ago as December, 1910, and should have been re-elected not later than the close of 1915, but is not, the government has determined, to be re-elected until after the close of the war. Thus the will of the people is of all elements in this constitutional venture of a war cabinet the most remote.

We in America are witnessing our own Government also in the press of war, becoming most extensively and rapidly centralized. Some of our best non-political men have given their services to the Government. Will the constitutional forms give place to a war cabinet?

NOTES and COMMENT

The news is conveyed in a perfectly serious despatch from Los Angeles that Prince Koesoemadining, brother of the reigning Soesoechana of Soerakarta, is there on a visit. A gleam of light is shed by an intimation that he is from Java.

The San Francisco woman who, instead of screaming when she awoke and found a burglar present, calmly directed the intruder to the family valuables, is of that thoughtful turn that is rare and admirable. That she was actuated by a fear that if her husband was awakened he might object and get hurt shows a consideration that is not at all universal even in the best regulated families.

These parades that protest against patriotism will find it safer to take to back streets. In Boston on Sunday one that was carrying red flags and some of those un-American banners encountered some soldiers and jacks, with the result that the band was compelled to play "Star Spangled Banner." Besides this, some of the leaders in the procession were cuffed.

Barring the sale of hot tamales in San Francisco is the latest sensation. Not that explosive danger lurks therein, or that it is an unpatriotic demonstration, but that it is a menace to health. It is just possible that the authorities are getting finicky about some things. In times of peace it was not considered that the tamale was highly incendiary.

This, from the Reading Searching, seems to comprehend a local instance. "Oh, to think of losing a $35 fishing tackle to a 25-cent fish! That's what William Coyne 'done.'"

The exact cause of the row between Secretary of War Baker and Secretary of the Interior Lane is probably not set forth in the despatches. The coal committee of the Council of Defense reduced the price of coal $1 per ton east of the Mississippi. Secretary Baker is represented to hold that the action was irregular. But it was not reprehensible, even if Secretary Lane did abet it.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Aristotle, or some such ancient political observer, first spoke of the "body politic," and the figure of speech has been a favorite one with orators and schoolboys ever since. It reminds us that the body politic is capable of hidden tumors and other unpleasant things, as well as fevers and similar pathological conditions. One such unpleasantness in the American body politic just now is the "I. W. W." We are not sure just what blow on the body, what failure of the system to act, just what hidden weakness, what abuse of the intake or failure to eliminate is to be blamed on the body as a whole for this I. W. W. tumor. Whatever is wrong, we have with us this inner growth, which no ordinary hygienic treatment seems to be able to eradicate.—Fresno Republican

The growing importance of Tulare county as a citrus fruit producer, and of the city of Lindsay as the center of this industry in the county, is emphasized by announcement that construction work has been begun on the eighteenth packing house there. Eighteen packing houses in operation, large ones at that, make Lindsay one of the busiest communities in the state during the shipping period of the year.—Visalia Times

The supervisors of Lake county this spring appropriated several hundred dollars to advertise the county in a Sacramento newspaper. Presumably the money was set aside to bring new people here. At their next meeting the supervisors will be asked to set aside a small amount to place signs at the crossroads of Lake county roads so that strangers who come here may find their way about. It is reported that fifteen complaints a week concerning lack of road indicators are received at the office of the California Automobile Association.—Lake County Herald.

The California Forest Protective Association reports that in 1916 over half of the forest, brush, grass and grain fires in California were caused by careless travelers, hunters and campers. Many of these fires were very destructive because they burned over grain fields and stock ranges. In the great emergency of the present year more care should be taken than ever before to prevent the destruction of grain or ranges by fire.—Visalia Times.

MARKET CHEATING.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

We note our city papers in foodstuffs an issue, and some are proclaiming the market basket should become a fact, while the garbage can ought to receive special attention. Just so; all good patriotic housewives should try to fall in line and do their duty during these trying times.

Now, for the market question we housewives of limited means did not require the war to introduce us to the market basket, but what is our treatment? The people who sell their produce make a tempting array around the edges of their counters and mark them at certain prices. The housewife thinks when she buys of these people she is getting the kind of produce exhibited. Not so. When she gives her good money and her strength to carry her purchases home her attention is indeed drawn to the garbage can, for she finds her produce is only fit for it.

Is there a market inspector? If so, why is he not doing his duty and compel these people to have two prices and two piles and leave it to the discretion of the purchaser as to which they want.

WOMEN MAY BRING WAR TO VICTORY

Edna B. Kinard

One man filled with the genius of patriotism and loyalty shouldering a rifle to march up against the armies of Europe in an endeavor to stop the war would be foolish. Five thousand enthusiasts joining him, the little handful would become as chaff before the wind. But take a million individual soldiers, holding to one, united idea, throw them into the battlefield, and they become a determining factor, a power which the enemy must consider.

One woman plodding herself to the United States Food Administration would be as foolish a hope as the one man with his rifle. She might be as true as steel and faithful unto death, but what would it profit either herself or her country? Five thousand food conservists joining her in watchfulness over the kitchen realm would be a bit of leaven, but such a tiny atom among the millions of women in the United States. But assemble a corps of hundreds of thousands of sane, efficient, sober-spirited women in command of the household foodstuffs, and the world must take cognizance, for they would become a determining factor in the distribution and conservation of food.

The burden of proof for her patriotism is going to be put upon the woman who holds back from pledging her faith to the woman movement. Individual opinions have been swallowed up by the mass and individual choice is being gradually submerged into an acceptance of that which is most expedient.

Women hold in the hollow of their hand the fate of the war. American women control the food supply of the world. What are they going to do with it?

WOMEN MUST UNITE.

If the womanhood of the United States will stand together sanely, honestly, determinedly; if they will use common sense, omit hysterics and co-operate, they will be the sure power which writes the "finis" to the war long before the men in the trenches can bombard their way into peace. Now is their opportunity to enlist, as regulars in the Peace army of the nation.

South, the East and in the islands of our possessions, interests we but does not touch our local pride. What is done in Alameda county—Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, San Leandro, San Leandro, Hayward, Niles, Colma, Livermore, Pleasanton and the other cities and towns scattered throughout this section—is of vital importance to us. Of necessity there must be some working basis for the beginning of a campaign. It has been found by the women's committees—local, county, state and national—the Councils of Defense, in the clubs, fraternal organizations, churches already established.

This does not mean, however, that that vast army of other women without the accepted organized groups are not part and parcel of the food campaign in the nation. The responsibility of uniting with the sisterhood of the United States in a Food Pledge until it means something is theirs also. And this is no time to be coaxed, nor is the excuse to be made for a rejection of the grounds that no one presented a Food Pledge. This campaign is everyone's business and not one in which a few chosen ones are important. It is all the housewives together who count.

The TRIBUNE presents to each of its woman readers the pledge. It asks for your signature on the grounds that Food Will Decide the War. It is so simple, carrying so little of personal sacrifice, so much of importance, that the force of the millions of promises which binds together the women citizens of America can hardly be realized by the individual.

"DRIVE" WILL START.

Tomorrow on the day on the city will begin. Corps of women will cover the downtown centers where the masses will gather in their Fourth of July celebration at Lakeside park the Alameda county women's committees of the State and National Councils of Defense will distribute the blanks and collect hundreds of signatures. Today Alameda, with several of the towns in the eastern end of the county, were organized into units, which will begin the two weeks active campaign. The Red Cross Society is co-operating very closely with the leaders in the food drive and will work through their local chairman in the effort to pile up the signatures.

The headquarters in Fourteenth street adjoining the Red Cross rooms is the center of a busy life today when thousands of blanks were sent out and scores of workers called to obtain their instructions. The important thing is to get the pledges to every housewife in the vicinity, to obtain her promise to co-operate, and to have them returned to someone who will see that they go on their way to Washington before July 15.

This is Governor Stephens' plea to the women voters in the state:

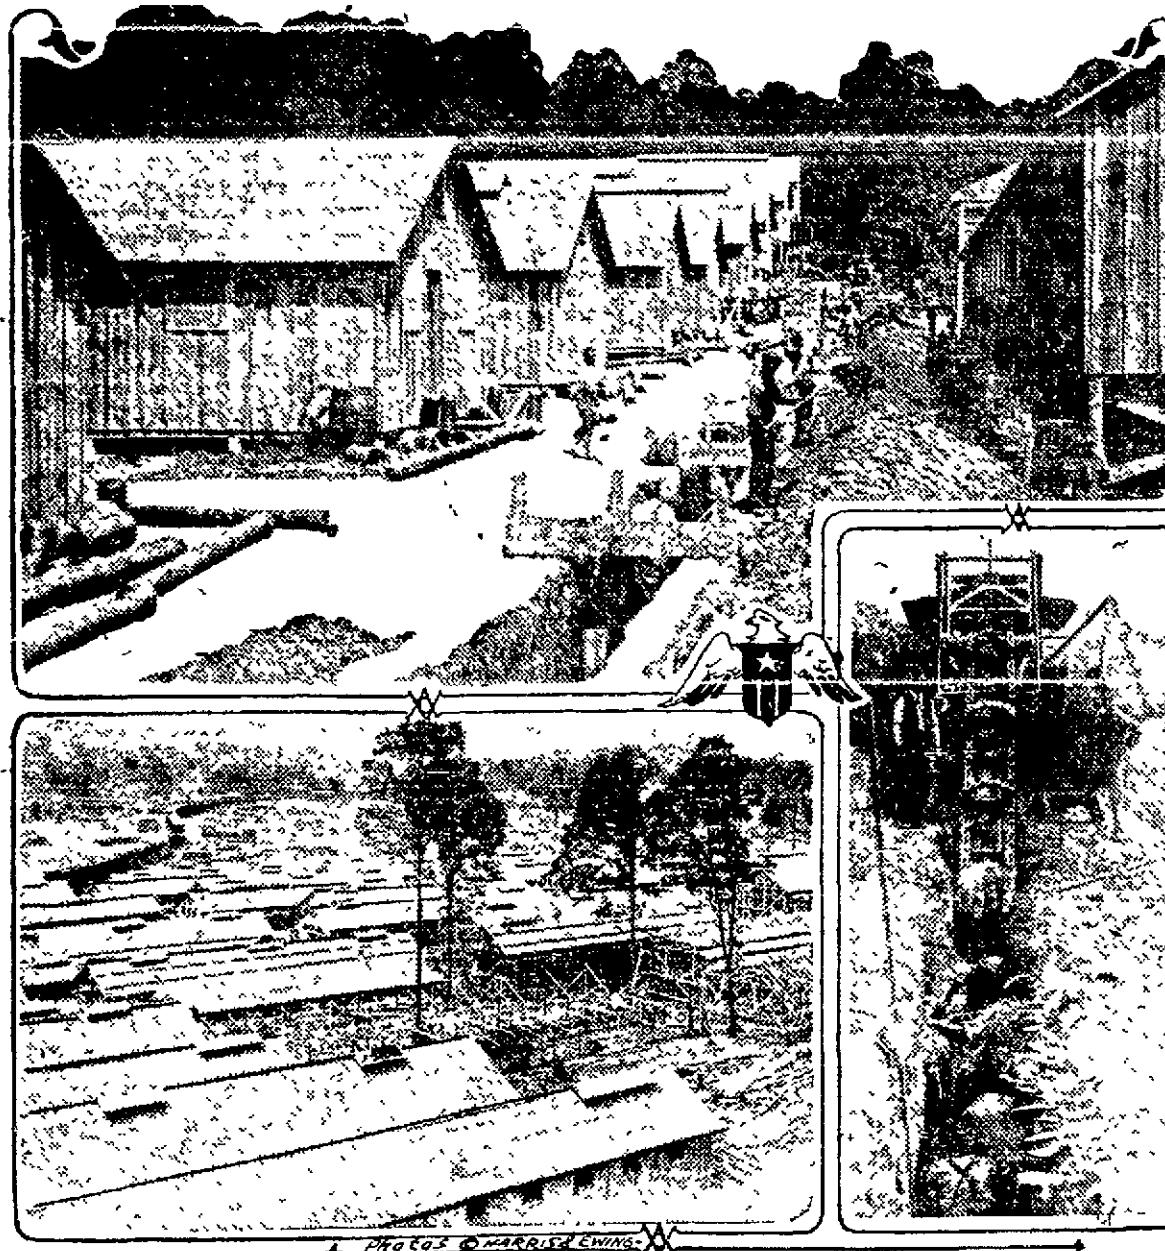

"To the Women of California. The time has now come to mobilize the voluntary forces of the country for food conservation. The women of California are ever ready to respond to the call of their country and to do their patriotic duty. I urge, therefore, that you give your earnest attention to the plan of the food administrator, accept the enclosed pledge and do everything in your power to save food and eliminate waste. This, I believe, is to be essential in winning the war. We must have food or our allies as well as ourselves."

WILLIAM D. STEPHENS,
"Governor."

COAL SITUATION

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Clifford Lane, representing the Iowa League municipalities, told the Senate Industrial Committee today that the tentative coal prices arranged last week between the operators and the council of national defense became permanent, they would cost consumers $700,000,000 over last year's soft coal bill.

Married Men Seek Ruling by Government on Dependent Clause

Army Engineers Confronted With Big Task in Erecting Cantonment Camps

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The married men are worried today. Who can prove that a man has dependents? That is the question heard on every hand. An effort is being made here to secure further ruling from Provost Marshal General Crowder on the definition of dependents.

According to the regulations prescribed by the President for the draft, a married man seeking exemption must present an affidavit from his wife setting forth her dependency and an affidavit from the head of the family other than that of the person seeking exemption, to the effect that the man seeking the exemption is the sole support of his wife and family.

It is the second affidavit that is causing the married men to worry. This affidavit must come from a person outside the family and be made in writing, which the suggestion of the local board. Married men are not prone to discuss their financial standing with others than members of their families and therefore there are few persons residing in the local district where a man can make affidavit concerning the financial standing of a married man. This is the contention of those married men who are striving to have the ruling made less severe.

It has been the object of the war department to prevent collusion between a husband and wife in cases where the husband's labor, physical or mental, is not the sole support of his wife. In cases where a wife has an income or the income of her husband from investments or other sources is sufficient to support the dependents the married man will not be exempted.

Provost Marshal General Crowder has the matter under consideration.

Army engineers who have been given the task of building sixteen huge cantonments in which Uncle Sam's big armies are to be trained, have already discovered that their job is of ready-made.

Between now and this fall there must be barracks reared for 40,000 troops at each camp and the total number of buildings will probably exceed 1,000.

Forty thousand men cannot be housed into shacks, there must be as much air space for every man if the health of the soldiers is assured. There must be accommodations for bathing, sanitary arrangements, cooking establishments, mess halls and places for recreation. And then there must be numerous storerooms, not to mention stores, magazines, etc., especially for storage of munitions, sheds for the housing of animal-drawn vehicles, arenas for motor trucks and stables for the thousands of horses that will be needed.

The cantonment camp now nearest completion is located at Quantico, Va., on the Potomac river. It covers an area practically two miles square. The assembly halls, mess houses, kitchens, sleeping quarters and all other buildings are built along the same general lines the materials being weathered and tarred roofing. About twenty-five feet separate the rows, this space being a company street in each case. Construction of these buildings is being rushed to the limit by a private contracting firm. All the work is being done by civilian labor.

ASK FOR WATER NAVY APPOINTEES

Seven housewives and farmers of Hayward Heath, which is located in the northeast of Hayward, complained to the Rate Commission today against George Schmidt and the Hayward Heath Water Association, both of Berkeley, against the insufficiency of the supply being pumped to a 100-acre tract largely planted to vegetables and controlled by them. They asked the commission to compel the defendants to supply sufficient and clear water, declaring that in the summer of 1916 the amount was inadequate and they feared a repetition of the shortage.

The petitioners are Ethel Ellis, Mrs. E. A. Hartley, Mrs. Gertrude Klarén, Alfred James Sargent, William H. Regan, F. C. Leach and Ray W. Taylor.

AMERICANS MAN FRENCH WAR TRUCKS

Declaring that the American ambulance units had found conditions in France much different from what they anticipated, John B. Whittom, college student and member of the University of California ambulance unit, which left here May 5, has written a vivid picture of ambulance conditions to his sister, Miss Elizabeth Whittom, 383 Hawthorne avenue, this city, under date of June 11, which has just been received. The letter follows:

"As a short letter is perhaps better than none, will say briefly that we found conditions here in France considerably different from those for which we had prepared. The American field service has lately been swamped with men and has been unable to turn out ambulances for them due to delays in shipments and the inability to build the ambulance bodies for the Ford chassis in any great numbers.

NEW TYPE OF WORK

"Lately the service has begun a new type of work, training section to drive immense five-ton Pierce-arrow trucks in supplying supplies to the front. This work is on vast scale, and it is the French army. It is also much harder and steadier work than driving ambulances and is not looked down upon. The French cannot understand why healthy young Americans shouldn't be doing something either in our army or the French army. When this proposition was announced to us at the headquarters of the American Field Service there was much disappointment and dissatisfaction. Some of the 150 volunteers decided to go into the French ambulance service, others into another voluntary American proposition—the Norton-Hodges. The result is we are now classed as French soldiers in five days a day, although we are really still voluntary volunteers enlisted for six months.

HAND GRENADES, TOO.

"This is just a hurried note and I'll write soon again about the hand grenade practice place near here; the German dugout just across the way, the old trenches, the aeroplane corps with its dozen of machines constantly flying the award of the Croix de Guerre, which we just won, the park, a wonderfully inspiring scene, our long trips through quiet towns full of soldiers of all colors of uniforms; the masses of moving troops we see, etc. We are a long ways from the front yet."

"Our daily schedule is as follows: 6:30, get up; 6:35, setting up exercises; 6:40, colors; 6:50, pel plups; 7:00, breakfast; 7:30, tent inspection; 8:30, drill; 9 to 10, camp work; 10 to 11, lectures on the insides of autos; 11, lunch; 1 to 5, driving, 6, dinner; 10, taps.

"Give family, Oakland, University of California and United States news. It is gold here."

CAR RUNS AWAY

AKRON, O., July 3.—Two women were killed and a dozen persons injured when a street car ran away in the business section at noon today. At Howard and Market streets the city's busiest corner a car headed up the hill got beyond control and rolled back. It jumped the track and crashed into a crowd. Mrs. Lee E. Lynn and an unidentified woman were crushed to death between the car and a building.

"Sammies," Singers Warble in France

Despatches from a French port declare this song is now the favorite with the American expeditionary soldiers.

"Good bye, dear old Yankee land; Hello France.

"We've sailed across the ocean to the land of the German dance.

"They've tried to rule the world with military stuff.

"But we come from a country that never takes a bluff."

The piece first played when the band of the Pershing forces set ashore, was written by Clarence Gridley, son of Dewey's "Captain Gridley" of Manila Bay. The words are by a transport employee.

SHIPPERS MOBILIZE TO FIGHT RATES

Shippers of Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and sister communities are mobilizing for a final fight against the demands of the railroads of the state for a 15 per cent increase in rates, when the local end of the controversy is heard before the state railroad commission in San Francisco on July 13.

The railroads recently lost their concessions before the Interstate commerce commission. It was understood that they would abide by this ruling so far as interstate business was concerned. Word reached from L. R. Bishop, traffic manager of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, who has been representing the shippers at the state hearing, indicates that the corporations intend to continue their efforts to secure a state raise in rates.

The Chamber of Commerce has accordingly sent out a call for all shippers to attend, the hearing on the date set and prevent the railroads securing the contemplated raise in rates. Such a raise, it is estimated, would mean a loss of thousands of dollars annually to local shipping interests.

BIDS MADE FOR COUNTY HIGHWAYS

SAN JOSE, July 3.—At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors yesterday, bids for the improvement of county roads and the construction of concrete bridges were received and referred to the committee on resources and food supply. The report is based upon information obtained by the committee from University of California farm advisers, who have made investigation in many counties.

Coincident with the report of the University Farm advisers that Imperial is the only county to report a shortage of farm labor, field agents of the State Labor Bureau stated that it is impossible to secure men who are willing to go to the Imperial Valley to do farm work because of poor housing conditions and the extreme heat.

NO SHORTAGE IN LABOR, SAVE IN IMPERIAL ZONE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 3.—With the exception of Imperial county, there is no farm labor shortage in California at present, despite the fact that crops are being harvested in many parts of the State, according to a report made today to the State Council of Defense by its committee on resources and food supply. The report is based upon information obtained by the committee from University of California farm advisers, who have made investigation in many counties.

Although no difficulty is expected in obtaining the training camp site, the government officials wish to exact complete satisfaction from the smaller land owners. This morning 200 army engineers and aides went to the site, and it is expected that before evening the position on which the camp proper is to be situated will have been determined.

Representatives of the Southern Pacific Company, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and the Spring Valley Water Company have pledged themselves to extend their facilities to the camp. This will be accomplished within two weeks' time after the supervisor's request. Within the camp itself the government will lay pipes for gas and water.

For the 20,000 men expected to train on the site, 1,000 acres have been selected as a position of the camp proper. After selection by the engineers, excavations and construction work on the site will be made following contracts with private firms. Troops will guard the site while construction work is going on.

A committee of transbay and peninsula business men has been selected to collect money, promised the government last week, as guarantees for the Palo Alto site. The committee is composed of John A. Britton, M. H. de Young, Jesse W. Lillenthal, William Sprague, Herbert Fleischhacker, F. B. Anderson, William H. Crocker, P. H. McCarthy, R. J. Foster, F. G. Drum, Robert Newton, Lyman McNamee, M. L. Sullivan, Justice McGrath, John Sloss, S. P. Easton, A. S. Baldwin, John L. Ladd, C. C. Vassell, M. M. O'Shaughnessy, Ralph McLaren, Charles Nelson, Fred L. Palmer, J. S. WHITE WOMAN AIDS LEPER TO ESCAPE

That a white woman, Mrs. Gay de Bon, aided Charley Chung, county hospital leper inmate, to escape is the belief of Oakland and San Francisco police officials, now combating the bay region for the missing. According to Charley Chung, Mrs. de Bon, former employer of Chung in San Francisco, came often to visit the invalid. Last Wednesday, according to James D. Bush, attendant to the leper boys, Mrs. de Bon visited Chung, gave him money and conversed with him for some time.

The Chinese escaped either late Thursday night or early Friday morning. He elbowed a high wire fence and made his cautious way out of the enclosure. Since then police and medical officials on both sides of the bay have been looking for him. The Chinese sections in San Francisco and Alameda counties have been searched, but as yet Chung has not been found.

Chung's fellow inmates told visiting missionary workers that he had given them small coins before he left as a silencer. They made the fact of his escape known, however, and told questioners that he had told them of his intention to enter the San Francisco county hospital, where a new treatment for leprosy is proposed to succeed.

ADmits CRIME

BOLOGNA, July 3.—"Cochi confessed his crime to me before his arrest. He also discussed his relations with the New York police," said Francesco Baroncini to the Associated Press correspondent today after subsequent trial. "He is the husband of Emma, elder sister of Mario Cochi, the slayer's wife."

"We are as much shocked as the Cochi family and will do all in our power to punish Cochi," he said, speaking for the slayer's family.

"Cochi said he had a pull with the police. When I showed him my motorcycle license he boasted he did not need one because he knew the law," he said.

—BLAINE MILITIA FOR RIOTS.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., July 3.—The East St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting this noon, blamed the militia for riots here last night. Law discipline on the part of the militiamen gave the rioters free rein, the chamber declared. Governor Lowden was bitterly censured for refusing to grant requests to declare martial law. A committee of twenty-four was appointed to "work out our own salvation."

The basis for the arrest which was made by U. S. Postoffice inspectors, was the mailing of articles by Margaret Sanger dealing with the birth control movement. Morgan's counsel, Attorney John G. Lawson, declared that the articles referred to were not obscene but were of a scientific and educational nature. Pending a further hearing, Morgan was re-

CATHOLICS PEN CATECHISM OF WAR PRINCIPLES

ROME, July 3.—The directing committee of Catholic action has addressed a sort of catechism to all organizations of the Catholic church recalling, as it says, the principles that ought to inspire the attitude of Catholics. Part of the catechism takes up certain accusations, saying:

"First—Italian Catholics before the war were opposed to Italian participation in the conflict. Consequently it is not true that they were instigators of the war."

"Second—After the declaration of war they did and continue to do their duty without reserve. Consequently it is false that they have been undermining the national energies."

"Third—All concerns, peace, sciences, towns, the church and toward peace in conformity with the principles of international Christian Justice and the rightful aspirations of peoples. Consequently it is false that they are partisans of war and are madly imperialist."

MYSTERY BULLETS FIRED AT THREE

"FLY" ARRESTED WHEN HE GIVES SON A SMOKE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—The lives of three persons were endangered early today when two shots were fired into the jitney bus of George Weidman, of 528 Valencia street, as he was driving along Taylor street, near Turk. One of two men who stood on the sidewalk was responsible for the shooting, and detectives are investigating in an effort to solve several mysterious circumstances surrounding the affair. One of the shots crashed through the windshield, narrowly missing Weidman, passed through the two incidents may be related.

FAIRMASS ACTOR CALLED BY DEATH

NEW YORK, July 3.—Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, the famous English actor, died suddenly in London of heart disease. He was 64 years old. Sir Herbert was born in London in 1872, the son of Julius Beerbohm, a Jewish comedian, and received his education in Germany. He made his first stage appearance in 1875, became manager of the Haymarket Theater in 1887, relinquishing it in 1898. In recent years he was proprietor and manager of His Majesty's Theater.

THE CASTORIA COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Every Woman Should Know

There are three different kinds of baking powder on the market, as follows:

- (1) Cream of Tartar Baking Powders, which add to food the same healthful qualities that exist in ripe grapes, from which Cream of Tartar is derived.
- (2) Phosphate Baking Powders, which are made from a mineral known as Phosphate Rock, or from animal bones which are burned and changed by chemical action into white, powdered phosphate.
- (3) Alum Baking Powders, which add to food some compound of Aluminum, the metal so largely used for kitchen utensils and wholly foreign to any natural article of food.

Royal Baking Powder is made from Cream of Tartar, derived from grapes, a natural, healthful food. No substitute exists for making biscuits, cake, muffins, and pastry of equal quality and wholesomeness.

The names of the ingredients printed on the label show whether the baking powder you are now using, or any brand, new or old, that may be offered, is a genuine Cream of Tartar powder, or merely a phosphate or alum compound.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK

WOMAN FIGHTS OFF 2 BURGLARS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Awakened by the threats of a burglar who held her by the throat until he tried to tear a $200 diamond earring from her ear, Mrs. J. H. McPherson, wife of John H. McPherson, aroused her husband and succeeded in frightening off two men who had entered their apartment at the Hotel Fillmore, 1335 Eddie street, early this morning. The burglars made their entrance noiselessly and thoroughly ransacked the apartment before they attempted a personal assault upon the sleeping woman. They had succeeded in finding only a $40 watch, and their cupidity was aroused by the sparkling diamond which shone forth in the glare of their night lamp. Evidently they figured on accomplishing their purpose without arousing McPherson, who slept by his wife's side. In this they would have succeeded had not they underestimated Mrs. McPherson's strength. She threw off the man who was choking her and the pair fled by the window.

WILD MULE RACE

"Ty" Stokes, winner of the wild mule race, was one of three out of a field of forty who completed the quarter-mile course. Of the total entries in this race, fifty per cent failed to get 100 yards from the starting point.

The first accident of the day occurred when Joseph Sanchez was knocked unconscious when thrown into a fence. His injuries have not proved serious, however.

Today the whole Robbins family will be competitors, although, heretofore "Skeeter Bill" has been the only one in the events, since his two brothers, Harry and Frank, although they arrived here on Sunday, have not been drawn on the program before. The chief peculiarity of the brothers is their great height. "Skeeter" is six feet four inches in his stocking feet, on feet one and one-half inches, and Harry six feet four and one-half. In their high hats and boots the brothers appear well over seven feet.

MERCHANT MARINE MOVEMENT PLAN

SEATTLE, July 3.—Steps are being taken here today by the representative shipping and business men of the coast to launch a movement for a great merchant marine during and after the war. The men, delegates from San Francisco, Oakland, Portland, Los Angeles and San Diego, have gathered here at the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce and are at work on concrete plans for the establishment of such merchant marine.

The meeting here is an adjourned gathering, attended by the committee formed in San Francisco two months ago on the suggestion of William Piggott or the local chamber.

After voting to cooperate with the council of national defense in every way possible the men voted to ask the midwestern, gulf and Atlantic states to form an organization for the extension of the merchant marine and when these organizations are completed it is planned to hold a meeting of the central body in Washington where the plans for an American marine will be made.

BRIDE-ELECT AND FIANCÉ SEARCH FOR EACH OTHER

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—John Hoke, a widower of Portland, Ore., is searching San Francisco today for his bride-to-be, Miss Effie Brown, with whom he came here from the Oregon metropolis to be married. Miss Brown, on the other hand, is on a still hunt for him. Both have enlisted the aid of the police.

Hoke, with his three children, and Miss Brown, who for some time has been his housekeeper, arrived here Saturday night. They became separated near the ferry while looking for a suitable hotel. On Sunday, Miss Brown reported that she was unable to find Hoke, and stated that he had considerable of her money in his possession. She left police headquarters without giving her address.

This morning Hoke appeared and told of a fruitless search for his bride-to-be. He declared that he wanted to get married right away. Mrs. Katherine Bishop, who had listened to Miss Brown's complaint, was unable to give him her address, and it is feared that she may have returned to Portland searching for him.

CENTER IS URGED

NEW YORK, July 3.—Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the President, was cheered for fully five minutes when she stepped on the stage here at the Washington Irving High school here in the Americanization Forum Day ceremonies which marked the inauguration of a law to open public schools for community centers.

Miss Wilson, who was much interested in the passage of the law, pleaded for closer organization among the people, and pointed to the community center as the ideal plan.

"Then," said Miss Wilson, "the government at Washington will know where to find the people when it wants to get information to them. Now it has to depend on the press."

PLAN NEW SCHOOL

EUREKA, Cal., July 3.—A new community center and school for Seventh Day Adventists is to be established near Moonstone Beach, twenty miles from Eureka, according to an announcement made here. C. E. Draper, of Dunlaps, Cal., recently purchased 5,000 acres of land which he has had platted and otherwise prepared for occupancy, and it is said he will start construction of necessary buildings within a short time.

Members of the Seventh Day Adventist denomination stated that while members of the faith will form the colony, it is not an official project of the organization.
